

we all handle so many different priorities in running a successful business. Juggling is an effective metaphor for handling some of those business problems/Priorities.

Business With Balls provides a unique service to the meeting planning industry by incorporating a company's objectives into an hour long motivational session. We challenge people's perceptions of their own learning ability and at the same time boost levels of energy and self-belief. There is something very powerful about taking a group of people through a new learning experience together and achieving success as a team.

Our fully customized presentations use a carefully coordinated step- by-step teaching method, breaking down a complex task into simple, achievable steps. It is a memorable team builder and enforces a "can do" culture in the workplace. This presentation, combined with our personalized juggling kit can provide truly relevant messages structured specifically to the goals of your organization. Our goal is to ensure that everyone leaves with at least the rudiments of 3-ball juggling, and in many cases we have created fans who go on to learn 4 and 5 ball juggling.

To learn more about how our program can work for you, click on one of the following categories:

- Corporate/Educational Seminars
- Trade Show Presentations
- Point-of-Purchase Presentations

Or contact us to discuss your specific needs.